Seligman & Melhenny*ORGANIZATIONS SCORED BY REV. FATHER HAYES

Law and Order Society and Town Young Men's Christian Association Subject of Comment from Catholic Church Pulpit on Sunday. Say No Need of the Former.

On Sunday morning Rev. Fr. Hayes from the pulpit of St. Francis Xavier church took issue with the recently formed Gettysburg Law and Order Society and also spoke against the young men of the Catholic church joining the Gettysburg Young Men's Christian Association.

Regarding the Y. M. C. A. Fr. Hayes said that he wanted no Catholic to join the organization, likening it to the story of the "spider and the fly." He also read a paper defining the attitude of the Catholic church to the organization. Concerning the Law and Order Society Father Hayes said in part,

"Here in Gettysburg we enjoy exceptional advantages in being the county seat, as well as the central point of the battle that decided, for the right, one of the most important victories that history records, the salvation of the United States as a Union and Republic. Providence was there and the Union forces were victorious."

"Now we live in the little town that was the center of the terrible strife and are at peace at home and abroad. I think that we should be content. We, as I said before, live in the county seat with ample legal protection and faithful executors of the law."

"To begin we have Judge Swope. Down along the line we have officials, regularly chosen, efficient and faithful in the discharge of their duties. Hence I do not see the need or good of any self constituted auxiliaries to maintain order and law. Let us summarize and particularize."

"Our President Judge, is a native of the town, efficient good and just, with under him all down along the line to the town officer. We have a good sheriff, a good constable and policemen. We have a good burgess and council, all apparently doing their sworn duty after its commitment to their charge."

"They act under the authority committed to them by the people who elected them by their votes, confirmed by the oath of their respective offices. Besides they are dealing with a good law—respecting community made up of good citizenship, chiefly indulging in the good quality of minding their own business."

"Besides, we enjoy the advantage of having the suburbs and outlying districts looked after by the Park Commission and police. From these sources of protection we may and do live at peace without the aid of any self constituted guardians of the public weal."

"Hence I do not think that with our ordinarily well conducted and happy condition that we have any public need of a self constituted auxiliary force to enforce good behavior on the part of our people."

"I think the cause of Law and Order is in the hands of the duly qualified officials and should be left there at least until it is proved they fail in the discharge of their duty or until they ask assistance."

PRIMARIES HELD ON SATURDAY

Much Interest Shown in Second Ward Voting. Candidates Names Nearly Put on Ballots of Opposite Parties.

The mid-winter primaries excited unusual interest in Gettysburg on Saturday afternoon and evening, the Second Ward voters being especially active. The primaries were without special incident except in this ward where an effort was made to put the names of two candidates on both tickets.

John B. Hamilton, Republican candidate for town council, was supported by a number of Democrats who wished his name to appear as the representative of both parties at the February election. Mr. Hamilton received the nomination of his own party without any material opposition and was also given twenty Democratic votes, while Jacob Stock, Democratic candidate received 27 J. Harry Holtzworth, Democratic candidate for School Director was given similar Republican support and lacked only two votes to have his name on that ticket also, the highest man, E. E. Slaybaugh, receiving 17 votes while Mr. Holtzworth was given 16.

From some sections of town the voting was very light but in other sections the voters turned out in their usual force and interest was seen until the results became known. Saturday's developments promise an unusually interesting February election. The votes for the highest candidates in the various wards were as follows:

OXFORD'S OLDEST CITIZEN DIES

Mrs. Catharine Hartman, Oldest Resident of New Oxford, Dies in Smithsburg after Short Illness. Was Visiting in Maryland.

Mrs. Catharine Hartman, New Oxford's oldest citizen, died Sunday morning in Smithsburg, Maryland, from pleurisy. On February 22, 1910, she would have been 89 years of age.

Mrs. Hartman went to Smithsburg about three weeks ago to visit at the home of the Rev. Ferdinand Hesse. She contracted a cold and pleurisy developed, the disease resulting fatally Sunday morning.

She was the widow of Jacob Hartman and had lived in New Oxford for many years, to which place they moved when her husband retired from farming. Mr. Hartman for a long while conducted a farm near New Oxford, between that place and Hampton. He died about twenty years ago.

Surviving her are one brother, Jacob Hartman, of Biglerville, and Mrs. Fickes, of New Chester. The latter is aged 94 years.

The body was brought to New Oxford this morning. Funeral from her late home at ten o'clock Wednesday morning conducted by Rev. George N. Laufer, pastor of the New Oxford Lutheran church, of which she was a member.

PEN MAR IMPROVEMENTS

Judging from information in hand, it is the intention of the Western Maryland Railroad Company to make old Pen Mar practically a new place.

F. M. Howell, general passenger agent of the Western Maryland Railroad together with Chief Engineer Carmichael and Superintendent of Construction Loy, were at the park last week going over the grounds.

It was decided to erect a new dancing pavilion with a floor space 100 feet square with additional space for an orchestra and cloak rooms directly opposite the present dancing pavilion and upon the ground now occupied by the old iron swings.

The dancing pavilion will be a modern structure and possess all the conveniences. The floors will be of hard wood and the furnishings of the building are to be artistic.

The old pavilion will be arranged into toilet and dressing rooms for ladies and gentlemen, and a room is to be set apart as a shoe polishing place.

At the foot of the road leading into the park or where the present little station now stands a large and commodious passenger station will be built. It will possess all the improvements and conveniences. It is rumored that this will be the stopping place for excursionists instead of the park as has been the custom.

Everything looks exceedingly right for Pen Mar this season. It is expected that 1910 will be the banner year since the park's opening. Many new cottages will be constructed as soon as the weather becomes settled and already the owners of cottages to lease are receiving letters in almost every mail inquiring the prices.

TO PROTECT HOMERS

That carrier pigeons come within the purview of the interstate commerce laws and are fit subjects for legislation is the opinion of Representative Lafean, of this district, who has introduced a bill regarding them.

Mr. Lafean wants homing pigeons protected from molestation when they are making interstate journeys. Mr. Lafean's bill provides a fine not to exceed $50 or 30 days in jail for any person who "entrap, shoots, kills, steals or in any way detains carrier pigeons while in interstate flights." The proposed law was referred to the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce.

TELLS OF ADAMS COUNTY APPLES

State Inspector for Adams County Apple Orchards Tells of Returns Secured by Local Growers. Spraying for Scale.

State Inspector, of Orchards, J. D. Herr, who has Adams, Berks and Lower Lancaster counties in his district, has made his report to Prof. Surface which appears in the number of the Zoological Bulletin just issued and which tells of the success of Adams County fruit growers. He also deals with the successful manner in which the war against the scale has been waged. The report says in part.

The use of lime-sulphur sprays was chosen as the safest, surest and most available material to combat the scale. After all the years of compounding and exploiting of sprays, the original position taken is still impregnable.

It remains for me to cite examples of profitable fruit growing in my district. Among many I submit these: Dr. Funk, of Boyertown, sold $2,700.00 worth of peaches per acre in a 10 acre orchard in six years. W. E. Grove, of York Springs, sold $1,500.00 worth of peaches this fall from 350 6-year-old trees and sold them too cheap. J. R. Yeitzer, of Conestoga, makes an independent living from 200 peach trees in his back lot. R. E. Adams, of Lancaster city, receives five cents each for his peaches at his orchard. Samuel Bream received $5,000.00 for his 40 acre apple crop on the trees W. S. Adams, of Aspers, sold 2,000 barrels of apples from 60 acres of young orchard planted on mountain land, originally worth $3.50 per acre.

APE CONVICTS MAN AND WIFE
Circus Owner's Pet Showed Anger Against Alleged Murderer.
Baton Rouge, La., Jan. 24.—Because their conviction for murder was based almost entirely on the animosity displayed against them by a trained monkey, Christopher Starr and his wife, Mamie, circus performers, of New York, are serving life sentences in the state prison.
A movement has been started to obtain a new trial for them.
During the circus season last July James Ackerman, proprietor of a one-ring circus, was murdered while his show was playing at Devall's Landing, La. The crime was atrocious, the victim being mutilated.
Mr. and Mrs. Starr, who had a troupe of trained animals with the show, were arrested soon after, but there was little evidence against them, and they would have been released but for the actions of Scamp, a pet Himalayan ape belonging to Mr. Ackerman.
Ackerman had been feeding the ape when he was slain, and when the animal, which was the only living witness of the crime, saw Starr he flew into a terrible rage.
This action was repeated whenever Starr appeared, despite the fact that he had formerly been a friend of Scamp, and it was repeated when Mrs. Starr was seen.
The monkey's actions caused husband and wife to be indicted, and when placed on trial last week the monkey was brought into court. Once more terror and anger overcame it, and this so impressed the jury that, although the supporting evidence was not overstrong, they were found guilty.

MORE PITTSBURG BRIBERS CONFESS
District Attorney Promises to Explode Another Bomb.
Pittsburg, Jan. 24.—District Attorney William A. Blakeley announced that he had secured several more confessions from men implicated in the councilmanic bribery cases.
He refuses to say whether the confessions are made by councilmen or bankers, but it is intimated that one councilman, a member of the finance committee at the time of the city depository cases, was one of the men who has "told all he knows." It is reasonably safe to say three of the confessions are from bankers. The district attorney promises to explode another bomb when the names of the self-confessed bribers and the bribe-takers are to be made public.
As District Attorney Blakeley continues his investigations he is learning many things regarding the business methods of some bankers which will not look well in print. Recently one of the accused bankers informed the district attorney that "he had sweat blood during the financial panic of 1907 and for this reason he practically had been forced to pay the depository bribe, as he could not afford to lose the city deposits."
District Attorney Blakeley has discovered that this man, during the height of the panic, had paid $400,000 for all properties in Texas. This, the district attorney takes as proof conclusively that this man was telling a falsehood, and when the trial takes place he does not intend to allow this defendant to plead poverty as an excuse for crime.

JA'L LIFE TOO LUXURIOUS
Public Indignant, Governor Sends Man With Pull to Chain Gang.
Thomasville, Ga., Jan. 24.—W. H. Mitchell, a prominent citizen, who was sentenced to the pen for six months for kidnapping and assaulting Miss Linton, a wealthy heiress, has been ordered to the chain gang to serve out the remainder of his sentence, owing to an outbreak of public indignation.
Mitchell should have been in the pen months ago, but because of his influence was allowed to remain in jail here, where he kept open house. He had a special room, with a private bath, and his wife spent the nights with him. He kept a luxurious table and held receptions for friends.
So much indignation was caused by the favors shown Mitchell that Governor Brown ordered him taken to the chain gang.

DIVERS SEEKING THE BODIES
Officials Admit Fifty Persons Lost Their Lives When Train Went Into River—Terrible Cold Hinders Work of Wrecking Crew.
Sudbury, Ont., Jan. 24.—Divers are seeking to recover the bodies of the dead who met death when the wrecked cars of the Canadian Pacific train plunged into the Spanish river, and is now frozen over. The number of victims is unknown.
The officials of the Canadian Pacific admitted that at least fifty persons met their death in the terrible catastrophe, but survivors declare the death list will reach seventy-five.
The wreck occurred on a 200-foot steel bridge, with overhead girders and a thirty-foot embankment sloping down to the Spanish river underneath. The engine, combination mail and baggage car and the express car had passed safely upon the bridge, when the forward trucks of the second class coach jumped the track. The car struck an immense steel girder with such terrific force as to snap the girder in two and split the car as though it had been divided with a cleaver. The rear of the second coach swerved far out to one side, pulling the colonist car, the first class coach and the diner off the bridge into the river and tipping over the Pullman beside the track. Fire that broke out at once in the portion of the second class coach which remained on the right of way added to the horror of the accident.
In spite of the efforts of the divers and wrecking crew who are vainly seeking to fasten chains around the submerged cars to bring them to the surface, it is thought the full extent of the loss of life will not be known for a week.
The river is frozen about two feet deep and the divers can remain in the water but a few minutes. Time and time again they come up numb with cold and without having been able to force their way into the cars of death.

Found Four Dead in Smoker.
Added to the terrible cold is the storm which is sweeping over the lake region. Great bonfires have been constructed on the bank of the river at either end to aid the workers.
The divers succeeded in getting into the smoking compartment of the first-class coach, where were found the frozen bodies of four traveling men, in sitting position, around a table, just as they were playing cribbage as the car smashed through the ice of the frozen river.
Practically all of the passengers in half of the second class car, the colonist car and the first class car, all of which plunged into the river, are believed to be dead. A few saved themselves and are being cared for by hospitals and residents.
Most of the people in the half of the second class car which remained on the bridge were stunned and burned to death when the wreck caught fire. Conductor Reynolds saved most of the occupants of the dining car by tearing a hole in the roof and pulling them through it. One woman slipped out of his hands and was drowned.
The passengers in the Pullman were jarred and bruised, but none of them was killed. In the first class car, one man was saved. He hung by his hands to the top of the car for three hours until a hole was chopped through. He breathed the air which remained at the top of the car, which was almost submerged.
The occupants of the second class car, which was torn in two parts by the accident, one half remaining on the bridge, the other half plunging into the river, were buried, drowned and mangled like rats in a trap. They had no chance of escape, and only a few were pulled out of the burning half on the bridge, their faces and bodies torn and cut and scarred.

Saves Brother's Life.
Cape Charles, Va., Jan. 24.—Trying to light a pipe as he had often seen his father do, Leroy Bundick, a four-year-old child, would probably have been burned to death in the home of his parents at Harborton but for the presence of mind of his little brother, who tore the burning clothing from his body as he was about to be enveloped in flames. Sparks from a lighted paper which the child had taken from the fireside to light a pipe fell upon his clothing and set him afire. He was terribly burned about the body.

Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 24.—John R. Walsh was initiated into his office as a reading clerk in the bureau of criminal identification at the federal prison. His duty is to read newspapers and clip from them stories of criminals, which are preserved at the prison.

140 Monkeys Reach Port.
Philadelphia, Jan. 24.—Two mites of tiger cats and 140 small monkeys, who were caught in the jungles of India and consigned to an animal dealer in New York, attracted much attention on the German steamship Inkentum, which came from Calcutta with a general cargo. There were 170 monkeys on the ship when she left port, but many of them died on the voyage and were thrown overboard. The monkeys and tigers were confined in wooden cages amidships.

SUES SENATOR TILLMAN
Son's Deserted Wife Seeks to Recover Her Children.
Columbia, S. C., Jan. 24.—In the supreme court, Lucius Dugas Tillman, wife of B. R. Tillman, Jr., will bring suit against United States Senator Tillman and his wife for the recovery of her infant children, Docusa and Sarah. Young Mrs. Tillman alleges she has been deserted by her husband, and that his parents, Senator and Mrs. Tillman, are keeping her children and not allowing her to see them.
She married young Tillman in 1903. They separated in November, 1903, Mrs. Tillman saying her husband was a drunkard and abused her. They were reunited in February of last year, but in December Mrs. Tillman became very ill in Washington. She charges that her husband deserted her while she was ill and practically kidnapped the children. She has not seen them since. The case promises to be very sensational.

COMET SEEN AT ATLANTIC
Thousands Rushed to the Boardwalk to See It.
Atlantic City, Jan. 24.—Halley's comet flashing across the western sky just after sundown Sunday night drew a crowd of thousands to the boardwalk. The comet was in sight less than a half hour before it fell below the horizon, but in that time residents and visitors left their dinners and rushed to streets and the boardwalk to get a peep at the new arrival. The comet was plainly visible, the tail showing strongly against the evening sky.

LEGS CUT OFF; TIED LACES AROUND STUMPS
Injured Man Then Rolled Third of Mile For Help.
Utica, N. Y., Jan. 24.—Thomas McTiernan and James Doherty are dead and Clayton Jackson is dying in a hospital in this city as the result of an accident in which the three men, while walking along the railroad track, were run down by a locomotive on the New York Central.
A stiff wind was blowing, and the men did not hear the approaching light engine as it bore down upon them. Doherty was ground to pieces and his body was strewn along the roadbed for a quarter of a mile. McTiernan was hurled forty feet and his skull crushed in, while Jackson had both his legs severed at the knees.
The locomotive was running backward at the time, and the crew, unaware of the accident, continued on to this city without slackening speed.
Jackson regained consciousness in about fifteen minutes after he and his companions had been struck, and finding that his lower limbs had been severed, removed the laces from his shoes and tied the laces around the stumps of his legs in an effort to check the flow of blood. He accomplished this with difficulty owing to his greatly weakened condition, and then rolled over and over in the snow for a third of a mile to a railroad signal shanty, where he found a man, to whom he related the circumstances of the accident. Aid was summoned, and Jackson and McTiernan were rushed to a local hospital, where McTiernan died without regaining consciousness. Jackson's life hangs by a slender thread.

WANT DUPONTS TO QUIT
Head of Powder Trust May Drop Politics, But Senator Won't.
Wilmington, Del., Jan. 24.—A story was circulated here that the directors of the Dupont Powder company had made a formal demand upon T. Coleman Dupont, head of the so-called powder trust, either to give up his connection with Delaware politics entirely or retire as the head of the company. Friends say he will probably retire from politics.
For some time it has been known that the directors of the corporation were displeased with the active participation of Mr. Dupont in politics and other outside interests, and, according to the report, matters have been brought to a crisis.
It is also said that the directors of the company would like Senator Dupont to retire from political life and not again be a candidate for the senate, although the senator has no official connection with the company. It is said that the suit of the government against the Dupont company is one of the reasons why the action has been taken.
It was said that the request upon Senator Dupont will not be heeded by him, as he has let it be known among his friends that he will accept another term in the senate should the Republicans win the election and he be chosen.

Cow Stables Should Be Comfortable.
Make everything snug and comfortable about the cow stables. Cows confined day and night in drafty places use up most of their feed energy in repairing the loss of animal heat. That is wasteful.
Handling Cream For Butter.
It is not the way cream is separated from milk but the way it is handled after being separated which determines the quality of the butter it will make. If kept until it ferments it will make poor butter.
Reliable Profits In Dairy.
Dairy products fluctuate less in price than probably any other product of the farm. Wheat and cotton and other crops may rapidly ascend or descend the scale of prices, but the dairyman knows that his products will sell at a fair margin of profit every month in the year.
How Pasteurized Cream Keeps.
Pasteurized cream keeps so well that it gives trouble in winter to churn it. To obviate this it should be well ripened for twelve to twenty hours before churning. If sour milk or cream be put in it the bacteria it contains will impregnate and ripen it if kept at 68 to 70 degrees. Sour milk or cream of choice flavor only is to be chosen, as the flavor of the butter is made or marred by the flavor of the starter, as it is called.

MANAGING THE BULL.
Good Method of Curing One That Has Vicious Habits.
According to a breeder who has had much experience with bulls, the wisest way of handling a bull that is inclined to be vicious is to hand him over to the butcher, as an animal of this class is never safe to trust. If he be one that has proved to be an extra good sire and it is deemed desirable to retain him for service the safest and simplest means of handling him is to blindfold him. He may be managed by ropes and pulleys, giving him room to move out of his stall when required and bringing him back to his place, but it is a cumbersome method.
Blindfolding quietly takes all the conceit out of a blusterer. A broad

NO MORE GRAY HAIR
It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made and used a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair, and are fast following suit. The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready to use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur As a scalp tonic and color restorer, this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers, and it can be bought for 50 cents and $1 a bottle at almost any first-class drug store, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price. For sale and recommended by People Drug Store.

COST OF LIVING BREAKS RECORD
Prices Increased 61 Per Cent Since 1896

BRADSTREETS GIVE FIGURES
Necessaries of Life Cost More Now Than They Did Prior to the Panic of 1907—Farmers Are Not Getting the Exorbitant Profits.

New York, Jan. 24.—A record of the prices of ninety-six commodities that enter daily consumption by the people, as compiled by Bradstreets, shows that the cost of living has now reached an absolutely high record, exceeding even that of March 1, 1907, when prices went soaring in anticipation of the panic which came in the fall of that year. The figures for Dec. 1 last were below the previous high record of 1907, but the continuous skyward movement of prices in the last month of 1909 had established a new high water mark by Jan. 1.

The figures compiled by Bradstreets are known as "index numbers." They are based on actual wholesale quotations for pound for the commodities in question, which, to make them comprehensive, are averaged over a wide area of markets. When it is said that the index number for Jan. 1, 1910, was 93.2310 it means that a man buying at wholesale one pound each of the ninety-six commodities on that date would have to pay that sum as a total. No attempt is made to compute retail prices because of the wide fluctuations.

Increased 61 Per Cent in Two Years.
The new "number" surpasses the previous high record of March 1, 1907, 93.1293, by 1.1 per cent. This ratio also measures the advance that was made on the ninety-six commodities in the month of December last. At the same time the present index number reflects a gain of 11.7 per cent over Jan. 1, 1909, which means that the prices of the ninety-six articles rose approximately 97 cents within a year's time. The lowest point for commodity prices for which Bradstreets have any record was touched on July 1, 1896, when the index number was 57.7019. The latest figure shows a gain of more than 61 per cent over this number, indicating, of course, that for every dollar you spent then for living expenses you are spending $1.61 now.

Prices in 1896 and Now.
The ninety-six commodities included in the tabulation are divided into thirteen general groups, as follows: Breadstuffs, live stock, provisions, fruits, hides and leather, textiles, metals, coal and coke, oils, naval stores, building materials, chemicals and drugs and miscellaneous. While all of these enter into the cost of living to a greater or less extent, the higher cost is more pronounced when the groups are selected that enter more directly into personal consumption. Take these seven groups, embracing fifty-nine commodities:

	July 1, 1896.	March 1, 1907.	Jan. 1, 1910.
Breadstuffs...	$0.0524	$0.0817	$0.1050
Live stock...	$0.1855	$0.8331	$0.4100
Provisions...	$1.3619	$2.1049	$2.3577
Hides/leather...	$0.8250	$1.1975	$1.2850
Textiles...	$1.5799	$2.7369	$2.7333
Coal, coke...	$0.0948	$0.0980	$0.0969
Oils...	$0.2082	$0.2342	$0.3728
Total.....	$4.2177	$6.8033	$7.2617

In other words, the man who would buy a pound each of the commodities embraced in this list would have paid $4.2177 on July 1, 1896; $6.8033 on March 1, 1907, the former high record date, and $7.2617 on Jan. 1 of the present year.

This week will see some interesting developments in the movement against the high cost of living. Next to the action of the federal authorities against the beef trust, the investigation by the District of Columbia committee of the house of representatives promises to yield the most satisfactory results.

Farmer Not Getting Huge Profits.
Secretary of Agriculture Wilson is satisfied that the farmer is not getting the exorbitant profits out of the beef that he raises, and it is said that a bulletin will be issued by the department of agriculture this week setting forth the fact.

The bulletin, it is predicted, will show not only that the number of animals used for food has increased in the last year, but that the increase has been greater in proportion to the previous supply than the increase in population.

The secretary of agriculture has little doubt that the excessive profits on other farm products also are going into somebody else's pockets. In the secretary's opinion there is some excuse for a certain increase in the cost of living, because the farm area has not been keeping pace with the increase in population, but this condition does not explain the present prices.

The increase in the real price of meat, according to the department's information, also has been much greater relatively than the increase in the wholesale price. When the packer has raised on the retailer, the retailer has passed the raise along to the consumer, with a little more tacked on for good measure.

SOLD MEAT CHEAP; FINED
Pittsburg Butchers, Undersold, Made Complaint Against Farmer.
Pittsburg, Jan. 24.—John C. Foutty, a farmer of near Parkersburg, W. Va., was fined by Magistrate Moroney in police court for peddling meat. The city cannot impose a license for selling farm products, but the recorder ruled that meat was not a product of the farm. Foutty was selling meat lower than the prices asked for by the butchers and they made the complaint.

50,000 MINERS IN BOYCOTT
Anthracite Workers to Cut Out Meat and Eggs, Too.
Pottsville, Pa., Jan. 24.—Clarence H. Forster, who is traveling in the anthracite region stirring up the miners to join the boycott against meat, declares that not only will 50,000 men at the mines temporarily give up meat as a diet, but they will follow it with a similar treatment of eggs and other food articles which have been artificially boosted.

"We will at any rate create a heavy loss to those responsible for the present conditions," he said, "and if they find the public is able to strike back, there will be more consideration shown to the people hereafter. The average miner can live very well on cheese and bread for several weeks."

Three United Mine Workers' locals passed resolutions imploring the government to take energetic measures to reopen the thousands of abandoned farms in the eastern states, recommending appropriations to refertilize all such places.

MELTING SNOW REVEALS SUICIDE
Body of Man Found Beside Album of Stage Beauties.

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 24.—Leaving his home in this city on Dec. 24, declaring that if he did not find a wife within twenty-four hours he would commit suicide, Robert Meyers, aged twenty-six years, mysteriously disappeared, and no clue to his whereabouts was obtained until his body was found by two boys in the woods near Central park, Rittersville, between this city and Bethlehem.

Meyers had removed his coat and opened his shirt, then sent a bullet into his heart. He had previously burned some of his clothing, the remnants of which and the revolver were found fifteen feet from the body, together with an album containing the pictures of beautiful actresses.

Meyers, it is believed, was infatuated with stage beauties, and it is known he had been jilted by a chorus girl. His body had been covered by four feet of snow, following the melting of which the tragedy was revealed.

ANOTHER FARM SPECIAL
Pennsylvania Will Run Train to Maryland This Week.
Philadelphia, Jan. 24.—The Pennsylvania railroad has extended its campaign for good farming to the state of Maryland, and tomorrow and Wednesday a farmers' special instruction train will be run on the Pope's Creek branch of the Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington railroad. Co-operating with the company on this trip will be the Farmers' Institute of Maryland. William Lee Ames, director, will be in charge.

The train will consist of coaches and two lecture room cars, and in each of the two days will make twelve stops of one hour each.

Kansas to Have Hanging.
Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 24.—James O'Neill, a member of the Thirteenth United States Infantry, stationed at Fort Leavenworth, has been sentenced to hang on March 29. O'Neill shot and killed his sweetheart. A legal hanging will be an unusual thing in Kansas, as the death penalty never is inflicted by the state.

Troopers Rescue Starving Children.
Washington, Pa., Jan. 24.—The five small children of Leonard Given, of Avella, were rescued by state troopers from a filthy hovel. The father is in Wheeling, W. Va., and the mother in a hospital. The children said they had nothing to eat but crusts for many days.

Cold Wave in Mexico.
Mexico City, Jan. 24.—The unprecedented cold weather that prevails over the central plateau of Mexico is causing intense suffering among the poorer classes of people. The mercury dropped to 19 degrees above zero in some sections. All the growing crops were killed.

Educational Convention in July.
Winona, Minn., Jan. 24.—The executive committee of the National Educational association has announced that the forty-eighth annual convention will be held in Boston, July 2 to 8.

Lost Opportunity.
"And you didn't hear of it?" inquired Mrs. Gable.
"Not one word."
"Why, I've known it for a week, so I supposed everybody heard of it."
Even Up.
She (sternly)—I heard a noise very late. He (facetiously)—Was it the night falling? She—No, it wasn't. It was the day breaking.—Baltimore American.

SHORT LIFE FOR PARLIAMENT
Great Britain Expects Another General Election Soon.

TROUBLES OF THE PARTIES
So Evenly Divided Will Be the Next House That Neither Side Is Anxious to Take the Helm—Little Chance For Home Rule For Ireland.

London, Jan. 24.—Never in the recollection of the oldest politicians have the British parties been in such a perplexing position as they find themselves today, and are likely to face when the next house of commons is organized. So evenly divided will be the membership of the next house, and so close is the popular vote, that the result of the elections for all practical purposes may be considered a tie.

No human mind can divine which of the principals and different questions before the electors had the most influence at the polls, or whether the results mean that the people demand tariff reform, or are loyal to lords, or anxious to reject Chancellor Lloyd-George's budget, or whether all three of these had an equal effect. In these circumstances neither party wants the responsibility of attempting to legislate, and since a division must be so close, the Unionists are better satisfied to be in opposition than to have won by a very small majority.

Mr. Balfour's speeches show plainly that with the existing conditions he is glad not to have control of the government. Premier Asquith would be equally pleased to escape the perils of piloting the party through the troubled waters. There are precedents for him to ask the king to summon another leader to form the government, but no one expects him to haul down his flag. All the prophets make the prediction that the new cabinet will find itself in the minority within a year and that the country will plunge into another general election.

The remarkable figures recorded at this stage of the balloting foreshadow clearly how nearly equal both the popular vote and the membership of the house of commons will be divided between the two great factions. The popular vote stands: Unionists, 2,565,627; Liberals, 2,324,315; Laborites, 395,115. This gives the United Liberal Labor party a majority of 153,802 in a total vote of 5,285,157. Today the membership of the house of commons is a tie, the Unionists and the combined Liberal and Labor party each having elected 218 representatives.

This Week's Balloting.
One hundred and sixty-seven seats remain to be filled, of which 102 are English. In the last parliament there were: Unionist, 26; Liberal, 115; Nationalist, 16. Should the present trend of voting continue, neither the Unionists or the Liberals can muster a majority of more than a dozen, and the Nationalists, with 83 votes, will be wholly masters of the situation.

The peers and the Irishmen will be the dominating forces of the next parliament.

Home rule is not likely to get far next session, according to well versed politicians, because the reform of the house of lords, which the prime minister has written at the head of his program, promises a great struggle. John Redmond, leader of the Nationalists, will be a figure almost as important as the premier, because Mr. Asquith can do nothing without him.

HUNGER LED TO SUICIDE
Girl in New York Too Proud to Make Her Wants Known.
New York, Jan. 24.—Actuated apparently by starvation, which her pride restrained her from making known, Georgia McClellan, a Georgia girl, aged twenty-five years, who came to this city two years ago, killed herself in a boarding house.

Before turning on the gas she destroyed all of her correspondence, so that no identification of her home town has as yet been determined.

Warships Are Speedy.
Washington, Jan. 24.—Six battle-ships of the American fleet at Guantanamo, in command of Rear Admiral Schroeder, exceeded the designed speed during full power steaming trials the past week. They included the Connecticut, Minnesota, Kansas, New Hampshire, Idaho and Mississippi. These trials are features of the evolution of the fleet in its winter practice. The information came in a wireless dispatch, undated, to Secretary Meyer and excited favorable comment among the naval officers.

Government Balloon Worthless.
Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 24.—The big government dirigible balloon, sent here by the war department for exhibition at the aviation meeting, has been found practically worthless. Not a flight was made by it, and it was found that it could not hold gas. An investigation has been ordered.

Earthquake in West Indies.
Kingstown, St. Vincent, D. W. I., Jan. 24.—Two sharp earthquake shocks were felt throughout the island Sunday afternoon. In Kingstown the protracted tremor caused a panic, but no damage was done.

Not Up on Slang.
"I'd like to get a room for the night," drawled the old man with the chin whiskers and yellow satchel.
"By Jinks, Buttons," whispered the clerk to the bellhop, "all of the rooms are filled, but we don't want to discourage the country patronage, so we'll have to give him some kind of a 'strail.'"
But the old man overheard the remark and fired up instantly. "No, you don't!" he blurted defiantly. "By crickets, no! If I wanted to sleep in a stall I'd stopped at the livery stable on the other corner."—Chicago News.

The Comical Way These Queer Birds of the Antarctic Act.
"The resemblance of penguins to human beings is always noticed," says Lieutenant E. H. Shackleton in his book, "The Heart of the Antarctic." "This is partly due to the habit of walking erect. But there are truly a great many human traits about them. They are the civilized natives of these regions, and their civilization, if much simpler than ours, is in some respects higher and more worthy of the name." Of two of the photographs that appear in the book the following remarks are made:
"An emperor penguin, meeting an emperor or men or dogs, bows gravely till his back is almost touching his breast. Keeping his head bowed, he makes a long speech in a muttering manner, short sounds following in groups of four or five. Having finished the speech, the head is kept bowed a few seconds for politeness sake. Then it is raised, and he describes with his bill as large a circle as the points of his neck will allow. If you have not comprehended he tries again. Meanwhile his followers are apt to get impatient. They are sure he is acting incorrectly. Then another male will waddle forward, elbow the first aside and repeat the ceremony. Both emperors and adlies move, when the surface is suitable, by tobogganing."
Wild British Cattle.
The wild cattle of Great Britain have become one of the curiosities of the bovine race in England. There are very few herds of them remaining, and most of these are diminishing from a very natural cause. Of course they are confined in parks and are jealously guarded from any admixture of alien blood. They are as wild as buffaloes and are treated in the same way as deer. In color they are white, with red ears, and historians assert that they had a large share in the evolution of the Shorthorn as it is known today. It is certain that the color mentioned very often crops up quite unexpectedly in our pedigree herds. They will probably become extinct in a few years owing to the extreme difficulty of procuring sires unrelated to the herds and yet of the same breed.—Farm and Home.

He Was Almost Dead.

When the Root Juice people were here hundreds of people flocked to the drug store to see them and get some of the great remedy, and after they left the great sale of the remedy continued because of the many remarkable cures it made. Many names of people living in this locality who were cured by taking a few bottles of Root Juice were published in this paper. The remedy is such a health promoting agent that it creates great excitement in every city in which it is introduced. Mr. Albert Timlick, of Cantrell, Ill., wrote and said: "For a number of years I suffered with a severe stomach trouble and tried many kinds of medicines but none did me any good. I was almost dead when I started on my first bottle of Root Juice, but as soon as I took three or four doses I began to feel better. Four bottles of the Juice made a complete cure of my troubles. I now have a good appetite and can eat anything I want. Before I took Root Juice I could not digest the lightest food. It would sour on my stomach and I would bloat fearfully. I digest everything I eat now. It has certainly worked wonders for me." Root Juice is a great healing tonic to the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys. It is sold for $1 a bottle. Three bottles for $2.50 at the People's drug store.

THE TIMES PRINTS FINE SALE BILLS

DROPS OF WATER.

Thrown Upon a Redhot Stove, They Will Never Touch It.

It is impossible to throw a few drops of water on a redhot stove. The water can never touch the stove at all. What is seen is a few drops rolling rapidly over the surface, gradually getting smaller until they disappear. If the drops are on a perfectly level place one can see under them to the other side of the room, thus proving that they are not in contact with the stove itself.

What actually happens is that the bottom of the drop changes at once to steam or vapor on coming close to the hot surface, and this vapor is supplied by the drop as it gradually goes away. So the drop rests on a cushion of vapor until it is entirely dissipated. This state of water is known as the spheroidal state and is of interest simply on account of its peculiarity and seemingly paradoxical behavior.

The reason why the drop is not immediately evaporated or changed to steam is also very interesting. The water vapor that intervenes between its under surface and the redhot stove is a very bad conductor of heat, and consequently the full intensity of the heat cannot get to the water itself, only the amount transmitted through the vapor being available for this purpose.—St. Louis Republic.

ENGLISH COUNTRY BANKS.

It Takes Strong Iron Bars to Win the Depositors' Confidence.

Rural customers attach great importance to the bank's outward appearance. A thrifty tradesman having opened a deposit account with a bank distant some thirty miles from his home, the cashier had the curiosity to ask why he traveled so far when there was a branch of the same bank almost at his door. The depositor smiled knowingly and replied, "I lodged opposite here all the time while this bank was being built, so I know it's safe." Balance sheets to the rustic are a meaningless and arbitrary arrangement of figures. Iron bars he understands.

In a city in the north of England there is a bank widely known for the artistic merit of its doors. Designed by an eminent sculptor, they are executed in relief in copper or bronze and appear to represent tableaux from "Aesop's Fables" and Greek history. About a week after they were unveiled an old man who had been a depositor for many years withdrew his balance and took it to a rival bank almost opposite. Questioned as to his reason for changing, he replied: "I don't hold with them doors of theirs. Punched tin ain't businesslike, and it ain't safe."—London Saturday Review.

A Perfect Disguise.

Frank Lockwood's banter was excellent and always good humored. I recollect him cross examining a detective in a divorce case, says a writer in London M. A. P. The witness was dressed in well cut broadcloth; he was portly; a massive gold chain and seals hung from his fob; he might have passed for a country banker or solicitor of the old style.

Sir Frank (very politely)—I believe you are a member of the eminent firm of detectives, Messrs. Blatter & Co?

Witness—Yes, sir; I represent that firm.

Sir Frank—And, I presume, in the course of your professional duties you have to assume many disguises?

Witness—Yes, sir.

Sir Frank—Pray, may I ask you what you are disguised as now?

Turner Was Gruff.

The great artist Turner is said to have been peculiar in his way of selling his pictures. At times nothing could induce him to part with one of them, and at other times he would receive a customer with the greatest affability of voice and manner and readily settle upon the sum to be paid for one of his treasures. On one occasion when he was offered £1,000 apiece for some old sketch books he turned them over leaf by leaf before the eyes of the would be purchaser, saying, "Well, would you really like to have them?" Then, just as the man proceeded to take possession of the books, Turner, with a tantalizing "I dare say you would," suddenly thrust them into a drawer and turned the key in the lock, leaving the customer dumb with indignation.

The Scented Court.

The rage for perfumes reached its height during the reign of Louis XV. Throughout the continent his court was known as the "scented court." It was then the custom when giving a large entertainment for the hostess to inform her guests what particular odor she would use for perfuming her rooms, and each guest would use that odor in making her toilet. At court a different perfume was used for each day of the week. Much more attention was paid to the use of the perfume than to soap and water, and cleanliness was not numbered among the virtues of that age.

CLOTHES AND THE MAN.

Good Appearance Waits Upon the Way Garments Are Worn.

"You can talk all you please about clothes making a man," said a Walnut street tailor, "but I want to say right now that the smartest clothes in the world can't make a man 'natty' if he is not naturally so. There is an old, stoop shouldered doctor up town that I have been tailoring for seven years. He buys four and sometimes five suits a year, and yet, except for a few days after he has broken in each new suit, he never looks nice. The trousers sag at the knees, the coat falls away in front, and the shoulders begin to look sloppy. The man's drooping figure and the poor cure he takes of his clothes furnish, of course, the explanation.

"Did you ever notice the average college man's clothes? Almost invariably he looks neat and correct despite the easy swing with which he walks. But you'll notice that he carries his head high, his shoulders fairly erect, and his trousers never 'break' at the shoes, so that the crease is always preserved. All classes of men go to college—rich and poor. Few college men take more than fair care of their clothes. It's all the way they wear their clothes, I think. Notice the young lawyers and doctors around town too. Few of them can afford the very best in tailor made clothes. That they usually look nice is due to the fact that they have picked up the distinguished way to wear clothes. I might call it, Clothes make the man, but only when the man is willing to help."—Philadelphia Record.

While it is the practice of a majority of milkers to sit on the right side of a cow while doing the job, the tester for a German breeding association has made some investigations in regard to the matter which are at least interesting. He has found that the right half of the udder produced 8.73 pounds of milk, while the left produced only 8.03 pounds, the milk from the right half testing 3.65 per cent butter fat, while that from the left showed but 3.31 per cent. The investigator attributes this difference almost exclusively to the fact that, as most milkers are right handed, the right side of the udder receives the better manipulation, and the milk glands are as a result better developed than on the left side. In way of correcting this difficulty he recommends getting the young cow accustomed to being milked on either side, the milk alternating his position when milking morning and evening. He contends that doing this would improve the yield of milk from a given cow both in quantity and quality.

The Judge Agrees.
It is recorded that Lord Mansfield, the famous English judge of the second half of the eighteenth century, listened impatiently to an argument of Sir Fletcher Norton upon a case involving certain manorial rights.
"My lord," said Norton, who was insufferably dictatorial, "I can instance the point in person. I have myself two little manors."
"We are well aware of that," responded Lord Mansfield, seizing his opportunity.

In Honor of Minerva.
The most notable festival at Athens was in honor of Minerva. All classes of citizens on this particular day marched in procession. The oldest went first, then the young men, then the children, the young women, the matrons and the people of the lower orders. The most prominent object in the parade was a ship propelled by hidden machinery and bearing at its masthead the sacred banner of the goddess.
